

Student Voice

Luke, 11 : My day as a student has been a good experience for me because it was a chance to take some good photos, interview people and build my confidence.

Connor, 19 : I enjoyed the day because it has given me the opportunity to take photographs of formula one cars and interview situations, allowing me to experiment with different angles and lights. The day was completely different to anything that I have done before and it has inspired me to carry on chasing my dream.

Ben, 16 : Some of the photo opportunities at this show are amazing, I am an aspiring photographer so this is like a dream come true!

Debra, Trainee Teacher : It has been interesting to see students in an informal environment, where their creativity is allowed to flow freely. Throughout the day it was clear to see their confidence increasing both in themselves and the photographs they were taking.

Burning2Learn Stars

The search for Burning2Learn stars took us to The Autosport International Car Show 2010 !!!

Motivating Tomorrow's Adults Today

Contact: schools@Burning2Learn.co.uk

Chase your dreams, he did...

(Jenson Button at Autosport International 2010)

MIA give up time to talk with Burning2Learn...

Burning2Learn are breeding a culture of students, motivated dedicated and with the drive to succeed. In a conversation with Chris Aylett from MIA we talked about how powerful it is for schools and colleges to develop the energy within their students. The engineering, science and maths industry needs new blood coming in.

Dreams are made at Autosport International...

With the rain melting the snow and the UK coming out of hibernation, we have made it to that time of year again, It's The Autosport International Car Show 2010!

We have had a fantastic start to 2010 that now continues with The Autosport Show, with the organisers job to make the show even more exciting and even more enjoyable than the previous year, they have not failed to meet and exceed expectations.

So before you assume that something isn't for you, take a deep breath and think outside the box? There are dreams to be made at this show and also dreams to be experienced...

Motivating Tomorrow's Adults Today

Forthcoming Events

Regional Skills Event
9-11 February,
Bolton Arena

Mallory Park
14th February

Another British World Champion in Jenson Button...

Jenson Button took the time to answer some questions put to him by fans at the Autosport Show, where he described his career so far and how he has always fought to be the best and become F1 World Champion. It is undoubtedly a fantastic achievement that has been made by challenging himself, getting out of his comfort zone and always striving for that ultimate goal. Having spent a number of years in F1 he has gained a wealth of experience that has helped get him where he is today, building good working relationships with his teams and always looking at the next step. Becoming World Champion was the best day of his life, and now he is motivated to succeed next season with a new team.

A job that won't drive you round the bend!

Motorsport Vision Driving instructor Alan Wilshire said "the best job in the world is the one that makes you smile every day. I love being a driving instructor at Brands Hatch, and to be one you have to have raced in the past, so its good to know you are being taught by someone who knows what they are doing!" A big thank you to Alan and the MSV team who have also supported us through out the years! Find out more inside our next magazine...

Motorsport isn't just cars and girls...

Autosport International are urging students to not only see all the fantastic cars but to use this opportunity to promote themselves to employers. Over 700 companies exhibit at the show and if you are coming out of university looking for a career or thinking about going to university there are companies and universities here worth speaking too.

Talking to Marcin Piechowski, organiser for Autosport International, we discussed the careers and opportunities at The Autosport International show 2010, "with over 700 companies exhibiting, we want the students to get to our show and present themselves as they would at an interview, get talking to the people on the stands and find out more about the company. If you show the initiative to approach people, as a young person you are already demonstrating a reason to be employed".

Marcin's passion for motorsport is amazing, we discussed the amount of opportunities there are and how to look at the show, he went on to say "when at a stand think about what the company needs to exhibit, a designer, an accountant for the bills, the sales team for the product, a PR team to promote and so on, its not all driving round a track!"

(Student, Ben Mansfield with Tiff Needell)